

Organize your Recipes

Last month we organized your magazines, perhaps you came across a few recipes that you would like to try or you are thinking that you would like to organize your recipes and maybe create a book for the next generation so the traditions can continue.

I've tried a few ideas of keeping recipes and the one I like the best is keeping recipes organized into a 3-ring binder with sheet protectors and tabs. The tabs help to place recipes into categories, such as beef, chicken, seafood, turkey, pasta, soups, appetizers, desserts, drinks etc.

We find a lot of our recipes online and then we print them off and place them into the binder. I know some people may just want to save the recipe online into a folder on their computer and that is great too. It's whatever works best for you. We sometimes make notes on the recipe to add a little more of this or substitute some other item.

Some of our favorite websites are: www.recipes.com, <http://www.foodnetwork.com/recipes.html>, <https://www.blueapron.com/cookbook>

While you are cleaning up your recipe folder, ask yourself are you really going to make this recipe? If you have had it for 10 years and haven't tried it, then I would just recycle it.

While you are organizing your recipes articles, it might be a good time to go through your cookbooks as well. When was the last time you opened a particular cookbook? Consider donating it to a women's shelter in the area if you rarely use it.

<http://www.realsimple.com/home-organizing/organizing/organizing-kitchen/organizing-recipes-foolproof-methods/finding-favorite-recipe>

https://www.washingtonpost.com/lifestyle/home/high-tech-and-low-tech-ways-to-organize-recipes/2014/12/02/4d80e390-74c7-11e4-9d9b-86d397daad27_story.html

<http://www.home-storage-solutions-101.com/organize-recipes.html>

Happy Organizing!

Your local professional organizer,
Betty Huotari

P.S. If you would like to share this email with a friend, please pass it along and if they would like to be added to my list, have them send me an email. If you would like to unsubscribe to the monthly news-letter, please send an email to betty@logicalplacement.com.

810.348.1772

betty@logicalplacement.com • www.LogicalPlacement.com

